Update

Dear Parents/Carers,

It's been another busy week in school with children working hard on their new topics. We would like to extend a huge thank you to our families today for all the excellent homework that has been handed in this week and for all the children who are SO keen to go home and read their new reading books!!! Keep going with this enthusiasm!

Our school improvement advisor – Mrs Julia Gaughan – has been into classrooms today and has looked at all our History books to see how we are improving with our expectations for learning from our new curriculum. We were really pleased with the effort from children in books!

A gentle reminder that all children in KS2 need to wear their tie-on ties, and also have House t-shirts for PE please. Many thanks in advance.

This week, we collected our £1,500 from the Tesco blue tokens with our Pupil Parliament reps! We have already started spending this money on resources for our EYFS outdoor areas.

Have a super weekend.

Many thanks

Mrs Helen Hadley

Key Information

Wellbeing Warriors Launch Worry Monsters!

Our Wellbeing Warriors are pleased to have launched Worry Monsters in every classroom across the school.

The Worry Monsters provide children with a simple way to share any worries, concerns or thoughts they may have with their teacher.

Sometimes children want to talk about something that is on their mind, but it may not be the right time during lessons or classroom activities. By placing a note in the Worry Monster, children can be reassured that their concern will be seen and listened to.

Adults will check the Worry Monsters each day during morning break or lunchtime and will spend time talking with children about their thoughts and feelings, offering support where needed.

We hope this initiative will help all children feel heard, valued and confident that there is always someone in school who is ready to listen and help. ❤️

Highlights of the week!

OWLETS

When our Y6 monitors visited Nursery today, they have shared that they have absolutely loved cutting fake hair this week!!! They have been learning about themselves and have been drawing faces too.

HARES

When our Y6 monitors visited Hares, they are so very proud that they have been writing their first 'little' words and they have had great 'magnet eyes' when listening to Mrs Thomas. They could tell us the sounds they are learning too!

HEDGEHOGS

Hedgehogs said that they have been enjoying their History lessons about the Great Fire of London and they have enjoyed their maths today where they went out onto the playground to draw number lines. Some learning partners were being very helpful in this lesson too!

SQUIRRELS

Squirrels have said that they have loved their art lesson all about cave paintings where they went under their tables to draw using charcoal and pastels. They also enjoyed their relay races in PE this week.

FOXES

Foxes have loved their learning in English about the book Varmints! I have read some of this work and it is really effective! They also enjoyed their typography art lesson with Mrs Powell this week where they were using maps.
